Getting to FedEx Field on Game Day

Morgan Boulevard station

Largo Town Center station

Football season is back! With Morgan Boulevard and Largo Town Center stations so close to FedEx Field, you can go green and save some green by taking Metro to the game. Check out your options inside.

Choose your way to FedEx Field:

1. The easiest and most affordable way to go: Take Metro's Blue Line to Morgan Boulevard station and walk to FedEx Field.
2. Park at Morgan Boulevard or Largo Town Center station and walk to FedEx Field. (Sorry, no tailgating allowed at these lots.)

IMPORTANT: The parking fee on a game day is $25 and must be paid using a SmarTrip® card. If you used the same SmarTrip® card to enter a Metro station other than Morgan Boulevard or Largo Town

Center station, you will pay the regular, non-game day parking fee. The parking fee is in effect from three hours before kick-off to two hours after the final whistle.

Buy your SmarTrip card ahead of time.

They're sold at any Metro station with a 🚗 next to its name on the Metro map. The cost is $10 ($5 for a card with $5 in value already on it). You will need to add $20 in value to the card (at a blue Passes/Farecards machine) to have enough to pay for parking on a game day.

You can also buy a SmarTrip® card online at MetroOpensDoors.com and at various sales locations throughout the area. To find a location near you, visit our Web site.

Other helpful information:

- Parking is free on weekends at all Metro stations (other than Morgan Boulevard and Largo Town Center on game days).
- Bus fare is $1.35 if you pay with cash, $1.25 if you pay with your SmarTrip® card.
- Keep your SmarTrip® card for future parking and trips on Metrorail and Metrobus. Load more value onto the card as needed at a blue Passes/Farecards machine in any Metro station.
- For route, schedule and fare information, visit our Web site at MetroOpensDoors.com or call 202-637-7000 (TTY 202-638-3780).
