

Metro Transit Police Department Investigations Review Panel Application

Police officers are sworn to protect and serve with the highest levels of integrity and professionalism. In order for a police department to be successful, it must build and foster the trust of the community it serves. It is in that spirit that the Metro Board of Directors created a new oversight panel to make recommendations on policy matters and police procedures. The new Investigations Review Panel will review completed MTPD investigations on a quarterly basis and submit recommendations directly to the Metro Board of Directors, which has oversight responsibility of the department.
